

Newborn Warning Signs (NBWS) Product License & Reprint Permissions

Last Updated: January, 21 2026

By purchasing this product, you agree to be bound by the terms of the AWHONN terms of use for this product.

Please take a moment to read the following terms of use and note that it is not our intent to prevent the fair and reasonable use of this product by you or your organization, but rather to protect the copyrighted and proprietary content herein.

AWHONN, as licensor, grants you, as licensee, a nonexclusive, nontransferable limited license to use this product for your internal educational purposes. A licensee is defined as an individual or a site user with one postal address. Corporate Users with multiple postal addresses (i.e. affiliated hospitals) need to purchase the product for each individual postal address.

Copyright

AWHONN retains the copyright to all resources, tools and educational content contained in the NBWS Toolkit. The user should also agree not to copy, adapt, modify, translate, or create derivative works based on this product or portions thereof unless permission to do so is specifically stated on the resource. This license is intended to prevent copying of substantial portions of this product to the disadvantage of AWHONN. This license will terminate automatically without notice from AWHONN if you fail to comply with any provision of this license.

We respect the intellectual property rights of others. If you believe your copyright has been violated on the Site, please notify us at permissions@awhonn.org our designated agent under the Digital Millennium Copyright Act (see 17 U.S.C. §512(c)(3) for further information). That contact information pertains only to notifications of claimed infringement. Please direct all other communications concerning AWHONN online education to customerservice@awhonn.org

Nothing in these Terms of Use or on the Site will be construed as granting you any right or license to use any trademarks, service marks, or logos displayed on the Site. You agree not to use or register any name, logo, or insignia of AWHONN for any purpose except with our prior written approval and in accordance with any restrictions required by us.

Permission to Reprint

Permissions to reuse and reproduce resources that are part of the AWHONN Online Learning Center are as follows (resources here refers to the additional handouts, resources and materials found in the Resources tab of the online courses). This permission does not extend to future editions of the resources. The hospital does not have permission to adjust or adapt AWHONN's resources for any other purpose or in any other format without first receiving permission from AWHONN (unless permission to adapt is specifically stated on the resource).

Purchase of the NBWS Toolkit provides

- A permission for one hospital to integrate the resources into the electronic medical record.
- Permission for a hospital to reproduce and distribute print copies of the resources for use in the clinical setting. The resources can only be distributed to the care team within that hospital. Resources can be printed and/or distributed via the hospital intranet. No edits, alterations, translations or additions of any kind are permitted to the NBWS Handout.
- Permission for resources to be integrated into a hospital's policy and procedure resource.
Note: Permissions to disseminate or reproduce materials for any other purpose must be approved by AWHONN. Requests must be sent to permissions@awhonn.org.
- Permission to create NBWS posters for use at your hospital.

Liability

Neither the hospital nor AWHONN shall be liable to the other Party for any consequential, indirect, incidental, punitive or special damages, of any kind or character, including loss of revenue or profits, failure to realize savings or other benefits, loss of data or use, and claims by any third person, with respect to the subject matter of these tools.

The content contained herein presents general methods and techniques of practice that are currently acceptable, based on current research and used by recognized authorities. Appropriate care of individual patients may depend on multiple factors to be considered in clinical practice, as well as professional judgment in the techniques described herein. Variations and innovations that are consistent with law, and that demonstrably improve the quality of patient care, should be encouraged.

AWHONN has sought to confirm the accuracy of the information presented herein and to describe generally accepted practices. However, AWHONN is not responsible for errors or omissions or for any consequences from application of the information in this resource and makes no warranty, expressed or implied, with respect to the contents of the resource.

Competent nursing service depends on a broad array of personal characteristics, training, judgment, professional skills, and institutional processes. These resources are simply one of many information sources. These resources are not intended to replace ongoing evaluation of knowledge and skills in the clinical setting, nor have they been designed for use in hiring, promotion, or termination decisions or in resolving legal disputes or issues of liability.

AWHONN believes that drug selection and dosage set forth in these tools are in accordance with current recommendations and practice at the time of publication. However, in view of ongoing research, changes in government regulations, and the constant flow of information relating to drug therapy and drug reactions, the reader is urged to check other information available in other published sources for each drug for potential changes in indications, dosages, and for added warnings and precautions. This is particularly important when the recommended agent is a new or infrequently employed drug. In addition, appropriate medication use may depend on unique factors such as individuals' health status, other medication use, and other factors, which the professional must consider in clinical practice.

Other

When purchasing AWHONN content, the hospital and its individual users are solely responsible for adhering to deadlines pertaining to any continuing education credit hours associated with the purchased education. The hospital shall not use any AWHONN logos or representations except as specifically authorized by AWHONN. Neither the hospital nor AWHONN shall act or have the authority to act as an agent for or of the other Party for any purpose.

Mention of products within this media does not constitute an endorsement by the Association of Women's Health, Obstetric and Neonatal Nurses (AWHONN). The content herein does not represent policies or recommendations by AWHONN except where explicitly stated; the content contained within this media is not intended to be exhaustive.

AWHONN Website Terms and Conditions of Use

All Terms and Conditions of Use for the AWHONN website apply to the Online Learning Center Courses.

Terms and Conditions can be viewed at <https://www.awhonn.org/terms-and-conditions/>